Certification Definitions

Current environmental and sustainable standards are based on a process that may take a long time to complete. For cleaning products not included in the current environmental standards, Staples has adopted the SEGC 114 Sustainable Cleaning Products Design Standard. This industry-leading proprietary standard raises the bar by examining each product's innovation and identifying packaging and product prerequisites, as well as outlining preferred product testing methods.

The U.S. Environmental Protection Agency's Design for the Environment (DfE) program seeks to promote the use of institutional cleaners and maintenance products with improved environmental and human health characteristics. Products displaying the EPA DfE logo have been "Formulated in Partnership with EPA Design for the Environment Formulator Program." Visit www.epa.gov/dfe for more information.

All plastic containers used in packaging products display the Society of Plastics Industries' 3-sided triangular arrow to make recycling easier. The majority of our containers are readily recyclable and classified as 2:HDPE (High-Density Polyethylene), and some contain 25% post-consumer recycled plastic.
